Subject : Reopening of Rockwell Campus on first trimester and first term of SY 2022-2023 in September 2022
Memo No. AGSB-OD-2122-004

I am pleased to announce that we will formally open the Rockwell campus for School Year 2022-2023. This will be for the first trimester of MBA Standard, MBA for Middle Managers, and MBA in Health, and the first term of Ateneo-Regis MBA, which all start on September 19, 2022.

AGSB programs will be conducted in two learning modes:

- 100% Fully Online; asynchronous through Canvas and synchronous via Zoom; this is the mode we have been in during the pandemic and we intend to continue to offer it
- Flex; asynchronous through Canvas and some synchronous sessions (not all synchronous sessions) where some students are onsite in the classroom (in person, face to face) and some students are in Zoom, simultaneously; there could also be sessions where all students are onsite, if all are able and willing.

These will be scheduled at the course level, between professors and students.

To prepare for these learning modes, we have three months - June, July, August - in which we can continue gaining experience through our pilot sessions. As of this writing, we have held 20 pilot sessions and more will be scheduled. I continue to encourage our faculty and students to try out learning in Flex so that we all gain comfort, confidence, and experience in this mode.

Our plans could shift with changes to government regulations, which we will continue to monitor.

Thank you.
